-WHEELING, VA:-

TUESDAY MORNING, APRIL 25, 1854.

The National Intelligencer says it regrets to learn that the Hon. S. L. Russell is detained from his seat in the House of Representatives by continued indisposition at his home in Bedford, Pa., whither he went a week or ten days for the purpose of recruiting his health.

The Main Line of the Public Works of Pennsylvania, which it is proposed to sell for not less than $10,000,000, consists of the Philadelphia and Columbia Railroad, the Canal from Columbia to the junction at Duncan's Island, the Juniota Canal from thence to Hollidaysburg, the Allegheny Portage Railraod, including the new road to avoid the inclined planes, in its condition at the time of the transfer, and the canal from Johnstown to

Maj. Gen. Scott .-- We yesterday had the pleasure (says the Journal of Commerce) of an interview with this veteran chief. His massive frame is still robust and vigorous, and he appears capable of encountering the hardships of another war if necessary. He lives in handsome style on 12th street, (New York,) convenient to his business office, the "Headquarters of the United States Army,' where, with his Aids, he is constantly engaged in the discharge of his responible duties.

Both branches of the Nova Scotia Legislature previous to its recent adjournment, adopted addresses to the Queen, expressive of their regret that the peace of Europe is likely to be disturbed by the unwarrantable aggression of Russia, and of their unwavering attachment to the British Crown. In case the regular troops should be withdrawn during the pending struggle, they pledge the provincial militia to defend their Province, and to guard and protect her Majesty's forts and arsenals from foreign aggression.

TAn act has just passed the Legislature of New York which provides "that any married woman, whose husband, either from drunkeness, profligacy, or from any other cause, shall neglect or refuse to provide for her support, or for the support and education of her children, and any married woman who may be deserted by her husband shall have the right, in her own name, to transact business, to receive and collect her own earnings, and the earnings of her own minor children, and apply the same for her own support and the support and education of such children, free from the control and interferance of her husband, or of any one claiming th esame, or claiming to be released from the same by or through her hu-band."

The Cleveland papers are in ecstacies over a new hotel in that city, entitled "Angier House."

The Wreck of the Ship Powhatan.

Full Particulars of the Terrible Disaster -- Two-Hundred and Fifty Bodies Recovered.

By the last mails we received full details of the loss of the Ship Powhatan, Captain Meyers, (of Baltimore,) and crew, with 311 passengers, on Long Beach, on the night of the 10th inst. We subjoin the following: Statement of Captain Jennings-Interesting In-terview with Capt. Meyers during the Gale.

On Saturday the wind blew with great violence from the north-east. The sea ran very high all day, and I supposed that there would be many a wreck along the coast from Bernegat to Egg Harber. On Sunday morning I observed a ship of about 960 tons thumping on the bar about one hundred yards from the shore. I immediately sent those men who were with me to the government station house, distant about six miles, for the life car, mortar, and other shipwrecking apparatus. During the day the ship's deck was crowded with passengers, and when the surf ran out I could get within seventy yards of the vessel, which I found out to be the ship Powhatan, of Baltimore, Capt. Meyers, on her voyage from Havre to New York. The surf sea in my life. Several persons began now to be swent overboard.

Captain Meyers hailed me through his speaking trumpet and asked me for God's sake to try and save some of those who might happen to wash a-shore. I told him I had went down the beach to where the bodies came on shore, but found them all dead, and it was no use trying to save them, as they were all drowned before they got half way to the beach.

Captain Meyers asked me just before this if any aid could soon reach them. I said I hoped so, as four men had been sent down to the government station for that purpose.

Captain Meyers again called out to me to save any of those who might wash ashore alive. I replied that I would see to it, and went down about two hundred yards on the beach where the bodies were being washed on shore. Women and children came on shore first.

The vessei then lay E. S. E., and had shifted from the N. E. Her foremost was gone at this time. I suppose she lost it before she struck on the bar. About 5 o'clock, P. M., on Sunday, the seip keeled over to the windward from the shore. The sea then, of course, made a clean breach over her, and passengers began to be washed off in great numbers. The sea running mountains high; and completely hiding the vessel from my view, I could no longer hold any communication with the captain. I never saw him since.

The main and mizzen masts soon went by the board, and bodies appeared floating in the surf in great numbers. Some twenty five dead todies, mostly women, came on shore about a mile south of the wreck.

About dark the sea rose to a great height, and one large wave, fully a hundred feet high, struck the unfortunate vessel, and in one moment the hull was scattered into fragments, which tossed wildly through the surf. The shrieks of the drowning creatures were melancholy indeed, but I could render them no aid, as the sea ran so high I could render them no aid, as the sea ran so high I could not get near the unfortunate people. In a few moments all disappeared beneath the surface of the water, except a few fragments of the wreck. Never did I see sucn a sight in my Itfe. Never do I remember witnessing such a dreadful gale or such a high running sea. In many places it made comp'ate breaches over the island, and carried, no doubt, many a poor fellow into the bay behind it.

The men got back the next morning from the

A number of the women and children define the way and manner in which their royal washed ashore had nothing on but the r night clothes. One interesting little girl, about 11 years of age, was in her bare feet; her right eye was knocked out, and the right side of her face was black and blue. A little boy, about eight years age, came alongside of her. His face was swollen to double its natural size. A man, apparently a sailor, who came on shore at the same tine, had his skull broken. The bodies had the appearance of liaving been dashed against the wreck.

In the House of Lords, April 6th, in answer to question of Lord Malmesbury respecting the operations of the c mbined fleet in the Black Sea, the Earl of Clarendon said:—I cannot agree with the noble earl in thinking that our fleet is liable to be exposed to fair obloque, or any obloquy at all, for I believe that it will turn out that since the notification to which allusion has been made by my noble friend, the Russian fleet has not been seen in the Black Sea at all-(cheers.) With r-spect to the particular question which my noble friend has asked me with regard to the ships, which, it is alleged, have gone out from Sevastopol, and conveyed troops to Varna and to Circassia, I can only repeat to him what I said the other night—namely, that we have no official knowledge at all of the fact, and such knowledge as we have induces us to be ieve that no such circumstance has occurred—(cheers.) It has been alleged that the first information which was given of these Russian shirs having taken out troops was by an English ship—an English Irigate, too --but what does the real fact turn out to be?—Why, that the only news that has been received at Constantinople of the kind was brought by the master of a Bremen vessel, who stated that severat Russian ships had gon- out from Sevastopol and landed troops at the portion of the coast indi-cated. On the receipt of this information, Sir Edward Lyons went to Constantinople, saw the master of the Bremen vessel, and instituted an inquiry, the result of which was, that the report turned out

In virtue whereof, &c. SPAIN. SCANDALOUS AND CURIOUS DISCLOSURES.

MADRID, March 30.—It is stated that the ex-Queen of the French, now at Seville, has for some time past been arranging a marriage between a Prince of the house of Coburg (the Roman Catho-lic branch, it is to be presumed) and a daughter of the Infante Don Francisco de Paula. The affianced pair were to meet for the first time at Seville, during the approaching solemnities of the holy week. It would appear, however, that difficulties have arrisen in the way of the match, and these are supposed from the marriage of the father of the bride with a woman of infamous character, too well known at Madrid by the name of Teresa

For some years past the connection between this woman and the uncle of the Queen was notorious, and so scandalous that Don Francisco de Paula's daughters were removed to the Palace from their father's residence at the Retiro, where he has since lived with this woman, for whom he is building a magnificent house near the Plaza del Oriente. few weeks ago, however, the Infante was seized with qualms of conscience, and addressed himself to his son, the King, saying that he was desirous o mar ying his mistress, and intimated that there would be nothing more shocking in such a union than in that which a Dowager Queen of Spain had contracted with the man of her choice.

The King, taking a moral view of the question, approved his father's proposed amendment of his mode of life, and the marriage was duly declared. One of its consequences, rumor now says, has been the rupture of the proposed Coburg alliance, the friends of the German Prince being disgusted at the mesalliance of Lis intended father-in-law. Other accounts are to the effect that the contemporary of the proposed by English in plated union has been broken off by English in-terference, but whether this statement be true, of

Taken in connection with the coolness I mentioned as existing between the Counters and the Queen Mother, and with the printed sketch of a projected regency said to be ofculated on the rench frontier, and in which the Duke of Alba's name was put prominently forward, this sudden move merits attention. The Duke is perhaps desirous to be put out of the way, lest, if a copy of the paper in question should reach the P clace here, he might be shipped off to some less agreeable place than Paris.—Cor. These are the wants of mortal man, I cannot want them long.
For like itself is but a span.
And earthly bliss a song.
My last great want absorbing all
Js. when beneath the sod.
And summoned to my final call;
The mercy of my God! And Oh I while circles in my veins
Of life the purple steam;
And yet a fragment still remains
Of nature's transient desum;
My soul, in humble hope unscar'd
Porget not thou to pray,
That this thy want may be prepared
To meet the Judgment day.

MR. Epiron:- I announce myself an Independent can-didate for the office of Sheriff of Ohio County, at the ensaling spring election. JOHN BRADY. JAS. II. McMECHEN is a candidate for the SHERIF-

ALTY, at the election to be held in the Spring of 1854. NERVOUS DISEASES CONTROLLED AND CONQUERED.

Three fourths of the physical pain endured by the hu man race proceeds from affections of the nerves. The unutterable agony of new algia, rheumatism, gout, spams, headache, and a thousand nameless pangs that dart thro every portion of the, s, stem, and distract the brain, are relevable directly to an unnatural condition of the ner vous system. The weaker sex are a prey to a variety of agonies that may truly, be called infinite, all growing ou of the disordered action of the nerves. The nerves are the sect of all pain. Kill the nerve of a "raging tooth," and the rain cea es. Destroy the nerves of a limb, and sible, and you produce death. Of what immense importance, therefore, must a preparation be that will inf health, vigor, hardness, and permouent energy, into this complex arrangement of vital agents known as the nervous system. Experience has proved, the faculty admit, the record shows, that Dr. Morse's Intigorating E'ixir and Cordial will produce these almost miraculous effects. If all men could witnes- the changes it brings about in the banishes melancholy, bege's strength, controls pain, and builds up and fortifies the constitution, and prolongs life —it would be unnecessary to advertise it. Newspapers are merely used as media to draw attention to it. To be universally used and unhesitatingly relied upon, it merely requires to be universally known. The aid of the press

DEFIANCE SAFES!!!

New York, Dec. 27, 1853, 2 p. x.

Mr. Robt M. Patrick, 192 Pearl st.;

Dran Sin:—It is with much satisfaction that we bear testimony to the really fire proof qualities of the Defiance Safe, of your mapufacture, which we had in use in our office, at the Novelty Eakery, No. 244 Front street, which, with many other buildings, together with the maninoth clipper ship the Great Republic, and other ships, was destroyed by fire, this morning. The Safe, containing all our books, papers, money, bills receivable, insurance policies, &c., was exposed to a very intense heat for many hours, viz.: from the commencement of the fire, at midnight until removed from the rulus, while still hot, to your store. When opened at 2 P. M., this day, its contents were delivered to us in excellent order, the books, papers, bank bills, &c., being as legible as they were before their exposure to what we consider a most severe ordeal.

Yours, respectfully,

EPH. TREADWELL & SONS.
